Paddle through a landscape of remote hills and valleys on the magical Whanganui Journey.

Experience the scenic beauty, history and cultural significance of the winding Whanganui River in the south-west of the North Island. Choose a 5-day journey from Taumarunui to Pīpīriki (145 km), or a shorter, 3-day journey starting at Whakahoro (87 km), featuring the most scenic stretches of the river.

- Paddle through deep gorges and past cascading waterfalls.
- Take a break from the water and walk to the iconic Bridge to Nowhere, abandoned by a failed settlement of returned World War I servicemen.
- Visit Tīeke Kāinga and learn about the intimate connection that Whanganui iwi have with the awa (river).

“One of the best things I’ve done in New Zealand! Such an adventure.”

Loesje, Belgium
Track guide

There are a number of options for exploring the Whanganui River by canoe or kayak. This guide describes a 5-day trip from Taumarunui to Pīpīrīki for independent, non-guided canoeists.

Days 1 and 2: Taumarunui to Whakahoro
57 km
Access points are at Ngāhuinga (Cherry Grove) in Taumarunui or further downstream at Ōhinepane (accessed from River Road SH43).
Travelling the upper reaches of the Whanganui River, you’ll pass through a mixture of farmland and patches of native bush. You’ll be in for some excitement as you shoot down rapids on this section of the river. Camp beside the river at Ōhinepane, Poukaria or Maharanui campsites. From here, you get the feeling of venturing into the heart of a rich and rugged landscape.

Day 3: Whakahoro to John Coull Hut
37.5 km
Many begin their river journey here—the scenic middle reaches of the river, featuring numerous waterfalls after heavy rain. Past Mangapapa Campsite, take a long loop around the Kirikiriroa Peninsula, pass the Tarepokiore (whirlpool) rapid and then the large overhang known as Tamatea’s Cave. Please do not enter the cave as it is wāhi tapu (a sacred place). Ōtaihanga Reach leads you to your overnight stop at John Coull Hut and Campsite.

Day 4: John Coull Hut to Tīeke Kāinga
29 km
On this section, follow the river as it meanders through bush-covered hills, passing the mouths of the Tāngārākau and Whangamōmona rivers where they join the Whanganui. Perched high above the river, Manga-wai-iti is an attractive spot to camp or stop for lunch.
Continue your trip downstream to Tīeke Kāinga where you can examine the intricately carved pou whenua and learn about the history of Tīeke and the tikanga (protocol) of the marae.

Day 5: Tīeke Kāinga to Pīpīrīki
21.5 km
You’ll pass through the scenic gorge of the Manganui o te Ao River where it enters the Whanganui after its journey from the slopes of Mount Ruapehu. Ngāporo and Autapu rapids can provide plenty of excitement and perhaps a cool dip on a hot day. More exotic trees and farmland indicate you are getting close to Pīpīrīki. Pass an eel weir on your left, shoot the Paparoa rapid and you will see the boat ramp below Pīpīrīki village up ahead.

Side trips

Day 4: Bridge to Nowhere
At Mangapurua Landing, where the old riverboats used to tie up, hop out of your canoe and take a 40-minute bush walk (one way) to this poignant reminder of the Mangapurua Valley farm settlement, carved out of the bush and then abandoned between the two World Wars. Look out for cyclists—the track is also part of the Mountains to Sea Cycle Trail.
GETTING THERE

Traditional entry or exit points for the Whanganui Journey are off SH4 at:

1. Taumarunui
2. Ōhinepane (access from Taumarunui)
3. Whakahoro (access from Raurimu or Ōwhango)
4. Pipirika (access from Raetihi or Whanganui)

Equipment hire, services, food and transport can be found in Taumarunui, Whanganui, Raetihi, Ōhakune and National Park Village.

Refer to the back of the brochure for transport options and services.
Plan and prepare

It is important to plan and prepare your trip and be well equipped on a Great Walk.

Before you go, know The Outdoor Safety Code—5 simple rules to help you stay safe:

1. Plan your trip
2. Tell someone
3. Be aware of the weather
4. Know your limits
5. Take sufficient supplies

- Book your trip well in advance including your accommodation, transport and transfers to the start/end of the journey.
- Safety is your responsibility—leave your trip details with a trusted contact. See adventuresmart.org.nz.
- Weather and river conditions are changeable, so be prepared and check the forecast before you go. See metservice.com.
- A good level of fitness and the right outdoor clothing, gear and equipment will greatly improve the enjoyment of your trip. Pack all necessary equipment, your own food and drinks (including an extra day’s supply) and personal effects.
- Food and drinks are not available for purchase at Great Walks huts and campsites.

Whanganui Journey safety

- Heavy rain and flooding can occur at any time of year on the Whanganui River and the weather can change quickly. You will need to be prepared for rain, cold and windy conditions.
- Don’t canoe the river when water levels are predicted to rise or it is in flood. If you capsize, you may not be able to get back in, or swim to the river’s edge.
- Always pull your canoe up high on the bank and tie it to something secure. It may not be raining on the river, but rain elsewhere in the large catchment can cause the river to rise several metres overnight.
- For a comprehensive gear list, see Plan & Prepare at greatwalks.co.nz or read New Zealand Recreational Canoeing Association’s ‘Guide to the Whanganui River’.

Kia Whārite—restoring the balance

A project to restore some of New Zealand’s most iconic species in and around Whanganui National Park is the basis of a partnership between DOC, Horizons Regional Council, iwi and private landowners.

Kia Whārite, meaning ‘to work in partnership’, will target possums and goats, which destroy native bush, and rats and stoats, which prey on birds. An improvement in the health of the vegetation and an increase in the number of bird calls recorded are early signs of success.

The area has one of the most important remaining blue duck/whio populations in New Zealand, and the largest remaining brown kiwi population in the North Island.
